The fact that the NAB is trying to prevent XM from broadcasting local programming is atrocious. For those of us who prefer a choice as to what we listen to, it makes me ill that the big corporate radio monster that has all but destroyed the enjoyability of local radio. XM is a refreshing alternative to the garbage that is local radio today and a better use of the NAB times might be to figure out how to make a better product that might compete with satellite radio instead of simply trying to restrict their reach. This is the same garbage that I went through with my satellite tv and their ability to broadcast local stations and I'm getting tired of this. Please let XM do what it does best... give us an alternative to the drab and boring medium that has become local radio. Thank you for allowing me to express my opinion.
